G-MAN Threatens LADY

Our Lord Jesus Christ Is Our Leader, Not FDR

Secret Service Agent Proposes to Railroad S.D. Lady to Insane Asylum

"Not you, Herr Hitler, but the Lord is my Fuehrer" said Pastor Niemoeller defiantly from the pulpit. Result: Concentration camp.

"Not you, Mr. President, but the Lord is my guide and I hope that the first drop of American blood that is shed because of your unscrupulous maneuvres will vividly call to your remembrance the contents of some of my letters, especially my hope, which has now become my prayer: that if you succeed in your wicked plans to involve us into this war ALMIGHTY GOD strike you helpless. You know the people of this country are united to fight for their freedom and keep out of foreign wars."

The writer of this letter is Mrs. Elizabeth P. Aikele, of 4522 - 30th St., San Diego. She called at my home two weeks ago, brought a copy of the letter she wrote and gave a complete outline of the subsequent visit of an G-man to her home, where he threatened to "take her to an insane asylum if she did not desist from writing this kind of letters to the President". I advised her to write to the President and inform him of the action of the Secret Service.

"Was I within my constitutional rights to tell the President what I think of his activities to lead us into war?" asked Mrs. Aikele.

"You certainly were", was my reply, "and if he would read your letters it would set him thinking, but you must remember he never sees them and they are turned over to the FBI, who send their secret agents to intimidate the writers of protest letters. You are not the only one. In Scribner's COMMENTATOR for March, on page 5 the following appeared:

Don't Be Afraid

If you are averse to having your brothers and sons killed and mutilated in a foreign war, do not write to the President of the Unted States to tell him so. In the first place, it is a waste of paper and time. In the second place, you will be humiliated by discovering that your letter has been turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigaton, with the inference that you are a common criminal.

Senator Wheeler has revealed that this beautifully democratic form of intimidation is being employed. Photographic samples of it have been published. It is intrinsic to our present Government moral code.

Whatever you have to say on this subject, make it count. Write to your Senators and Representatives in Congress.

If they can't help you, or won't help you—you'd better resort to prayer.

"But if you resort to prayer, don't pray foolishly. Don't tell the Lord what to do to FDR, the Lord knows more about him than you possibly could. FDR is the scourge of the Lord for America. As a nation we have earned it. The President has broken all his promises and kept only half of one, namely to repeal the 18th amendment and prevent the return of the saloon. He repealed prohibition, but he did not keep the other half of the promise, not to return the saloon.

"Bear in mind that as long as the American people keep in office, and returned him twice more, a man who has no use for an oath, keeps no promises, perverts and debauches the supreme court, then enlarges the public debt and instead of driving the money changers out of the temple sells his people right into bondage to International Jews and conscripts the youth to fight to put them back into power in Europe; such a nation does not deserve liberty and peace. That is why God lets FDR live, till the results of his faithlessness will bring home to the people that WE MUST KEEP our covenants with God; that oaths of office are sacred; that the constitution means what it says and not what a criminal bunch of copperheads on the bench say about it.

"Don't waste your time writing letters Roosevelt never gets. Better pray for wisdom, that you may do the right thing by yourself and the people."

"But what right had the G-man to enter my home and threaten me?" insisted Mrs. Aikele.

"They have no right, but like all secret police, OGPU and Gestapo, they are the chief lawbreakers and gangsters when they get into power. I'll investigate and find out whether it was the Treasury Department or the Justice Department that sent the man to you."

"What shall I do to protect myself?"

"Once you have chosen the path of prayer, then have faith in it. Merely use common sense. You cannot serve two masters. If you keep your covenant with God, whatever happens will lead to demonstrate His power and His glory. Don't worry, but pray for strenght and inspiration. I have been in the most complicated situations and no human planning could have figured out details so perfectly as they turned out in the long run in my favor. By placing your faith in the Highest Intelligence, you set powers into operation that are so superior to the forces of criminal governments and murderers, that it strikes right home without you having to lower yourself to their level.

"Above all things, don't pray for something to happen to the President. Any prayer that induces misery in others is evil. Pray that God may enlighten him and awaken a love for his country and the people whom he is preparing for the shambles. As far as he personally is concerned, God does not want the death even of a sinner.

"The LAW of recompense works automatically. What Roosevelt sows that he reaps. He cannot escape the reaction of his own actions. You remember how he bragged that before the war of 1917-18, as acting head of the Navy, he was following his designs 'far-sightedly' to get us into the war and committed enough illegal acts to send him to jail for 999 years and only the declaration of war saved him from being sent to jail. But you may have noticed that you did not have to pray to God to strike him helpless. Infantile Paralysis took care of that. So never meddle with God. He is a better judge thon you or I."

My inquiries at the local offices of the FBI and the Treasury Dept. resulted in an assurance from the Treasury to the effect that, "our agents do not invade people's private homes and threaten and threaten them with violence, it's the "Secret Service" that's doing that; those are their methods."

I wrote a letter to the Los Angeles office of the Treasury Dept.—Here is the reply:

Frank C. Hughes in Car Accident

Report in "The Bryan Democrat"

BRYAN, Ohio,—Beer Cellar Hill, one mile west of Bryan, was the scene of the only serious traffic accident in this vicinity over the weekend, one person being injured in a collision of two cars.

Robert Ensign, 18, of 809 W. High St., received treatment in Cameron Hospital for injuries to his left hand, sustained Saturday at 3 p. m. when his automobile collided with one driven by Frank C. Hughes, 59, of Squirrel Island, Maine. Clarence Arnold, who was riding with Ensign, and two passengers in the Maine car were unhurt.

Hughes told Deputies Norman Barnes and Lorin Apt, who investigated, that he was driving east on U. S. Route 6, and collided with Ensign when the latter attempted a U-turn in the highway, about half way up the incline. Hughes' car skidded 50 feet and turned over on its side, and the Ensign car also turned over. Both vehicles, Ensign's 1928 Ford Coupe, and Hughes' 1941 Studebaker, were damaged.

* * * *

BRYAN, Ohio,—While driving east on U. S. No. 6, about one mile west of Bryan, Ohio, we had an accident. An old Ford car, occupied by two young college students, was ahead of us and going in the same direction. The Ford driver pulled over to the right of the road and then decided to make a U turn. There was no cross road anywhere near the scene. The Ford made a quick turn, about two seconds before we were to pass. When I saw what the other driver was doing, I swung to the left but our right front struck the left front of the Ford. They tipped over and so did our new Studebaker, which had been driven only 834 miles.

We were helped out of our car, which was resting on its left side, by the boys from the other car.

The Ford will probably never run again. Our car was hauled to the local body works by a wrecker, and we will probably be at the Christman Hotel at Bryan, Ohio, for about a week while our car is being repaired.

In addition to Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. A. A. Baker of Glendive, Mont., was in our car and as far as I know none of us suffered any injry.

The first thing the young fellow who had been driving the Ford said to me was, "It was 100% my fault".

I just came from the hospital where this young man is. He has a badly swollen left hand with some fractures in the hand. His name is Robert Ensign; address 809 W. High St., Bryan, Ohio. The other young man is Clarence Arnold, 204 E. Wilson St., Bryan, Ohio. He was not injured.

The office Grouch was having some financial business transacted and they handed him a leaflet with instructions to sign at the bottom.

The Grouch started to read through the fine print.

"It is unnecessary to do that," the financial agent said smoothly.

"That doesnt' mean anything."

"All right, then," replied the Grouch. "I'll fix it so it doesn't."

And he drew heavy black lines through all the fine print.

Write to Lindbergh

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

Don't you think it advisable to advise your subscribers to write also to Charles Lindbergh? To thank him for his manly, true American courage to stand by us and keep us posted in this terrible coming fight at present here, that will quickly bring us on the verge of ruin.

We are Americans and every true American must stand first, last and forever shoulder to shoulder, for the spirit of our forefathers, who prepared for us the sacred constitution of a free country. Free we want to be from the rule of a demonic dictator, that will betray us of our liberty and wellfare to a dead wicked country!

We write to our Senators Hiram Johnson, Wheeler, Nye,—but we shouldn't forget to write to Lindbergh also, who as a dynamo will stand by us and advise us.

Would you be so kind of sending me his address.

I also wish to say, that I am delighted with the courage and management of your paper.

Sincerely, C. SCHRADER.

Solution of the Mystery-Puzzle

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE U. S. A. ?

Ever since the days of Washington the Tories have had no use for the Republic.

They have no use for the Republic today. Instead of being named Tories and Whigs, they became Democrats and Republicans. The Democrats have always sided in the majority with the British against the Republic, inspite of the minority among Democrats who took the ideal of democracy to heart.

Lincoln, like Washington, had to face the pressure of the Tory Democrats who were in fact Britishers settled in the slave countries, a British custom of landlordism and slave ownership. The northern British sympathizers were Democrats, called copperheads. Roosevelt's father was a northern Democrat.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt represents the Tory squires of the north. While Lincoln won the war for the Union, Franklin started to undermine the Republic already before the 1st world war when he committed enough crimes to be sent to jail for 999 years. To cover up his crimes, as assistant secretary of the navy, he helped precipitate a national emergency, the entry into the war.

That war was fought to enthrone the British at Versailles and produce Hitler in Germany, Stalin in Russia, Mussolini in Italy and finally make Franklin Delano Roosevelt the Tory head of the U. S. A.

Why is the Constitution not respected? Why, quite natural! The Tory squire never had any use for the Republic. His ideal is the British form of "democracy" with a monarch and a limited rule by the people for the profit of the squires. After Washington and Lincoln won on the battlefields the right to establish the Republic and keep it intact the Torries succeeded, by boring from within, to scuttle the Republic and place their man, Franklin Delano Roosevelt on the throne to re-establish the British dominion over the lost colonies. That is the idea of UNION NOW and it explains why even the supreme court has been packed and British socialism for the masses substituted with government regulation of industry, as in England, in place of constitutional rights of freedom of contract in employment.

Freedom to Worship God "Everywhere in the World"

Mere Campaign Oratory

The Jewish perfidious method of satanic promises to mislead the people into following false leadership is evidenced in the activities of the Siamese Twins who were candidates for the presidency. Both of them regard their campaign promises as mere "oratory" that binds them to nothing. In fact Persident Roosevelt, the majority of the Congress and the Federal Judges regard their oath of office as mere "campaign oratory" to get the jobs, the salaries and the power to do evil and rob, betray and tyranize the people for the profit of the International Bankers.

Willkie and Roosevelt are Siamese Twins bound together by "me too" ties, when each faced in opposite direction during election time, faces set against war, but both started backing into war till they met, walking backwards, and are now tied together in history as the Siamese Twins who backed the U. S. into war, the crooks.

An example of perfidy is clearly given by the actions of Federal Judge James V. Allred of Victoria, Texas. Seven conscientious objectors were hailed before him and they told the judge that God and the Ten Commandmnts rank higher than Congress and the President. "Is that so?" replied the Judge. "Just for that I'll give each one of you five years". Then speaking to Ed Berger, 26, spokesman for the seven, he told him: "In some other country you would be sent to a concentration camp for that. You better change your mind before I leave Victoria tomorrow, or you go to jail for five years".

Now what is the difference between Hitler's regime which sent Pastor Niemoeller to a concentration camp for asserting: "Not you, Herr Hitler, are my Fuehrer, but the Lord Jesus Christ"; and The present federal regime from the White House down, who with uplifted hands take an oath to uphold the constitution, uphold religious freedom and then they send to "work camps" and to federal prison those who like Pastor Niemoeller have chosen our Lord Jesus Christ. The instance of Judge Allred calling Berger's remark "impudent", when he told the court that he would register for the draft whenever the court would change the Ten Commandments, shows that our Judges are atheists, as is the President, the majority of congressmen and senators, for each one of them places their faith in perfidy but not in the oath of office and none of them have any regard for the constitution and the observance of the protection it gives to the American individual citizen.

How do those fools imagine to benefit "patriotically" the other 130 million Americans by going smack against the Ten Comandments, the Constitution and the Multiplication Table. Can these fools change the laws of God and the Universe, or ignore them, as Judge Allred so stupidly, arrogantly, perfidiously and tyrannically assumed to do. Whence comes the power to suspend fundamentals to those who took an oath to comply with all these provisions?

And while we are on the subject, by what legal authority are conscientious objectors, who are forced to do slave labor in violation of the 13th and the First amendment to the constitution, deprived of the $21 and $30 a month which the selective act stipulates. By what right in law are they compelled to contribute $35 a month for their board to slave in work camps at hard labor?

Bear in mind that Hitler's totalitarian warfare is copied from the plan worked out in 1917 by the U. S. general staff. All these claims that we are menaced by Hitler's dictatorship is plain campaign oratory to get us into the war to sell more bonds to the International Bankers and donate to them the interest on those bonds, while the country loses its constitution, mortgages its future to the Jews, kills and maims its youth, with all the perfidious New Dealers calling it an "impertinence" to chose God and the Ten Comandments as our Lord and guidance through life!

Write Letters to Hopkins Against War

WASHINGTON,— Harry Hopkins, lease-lend administrator, is being credited with having applied the brakes to presidential policies which were pushing the United States straight into a shooting war. His go-slow advice at the White House has incurred for him the enmity of the official and unofficial rooters for more active participation. Hopkins perhaps is one of the most realistic men around the president, and also one of the most influential. Even when he bossed such an emotional and humanitarian agency as WPA, he applied practical methods as he saw them. It was his assignment to keep people from starving, and he set them to raking leaves without heed for criticism. An Iowan and a welfare worker, his is a background of peace. Terrific British reverses, and his suspicion that more overt and warlike acts would plunge this country into the midst of the conflict, are supposed to motivate him in his tugging at the presidential coattails.

Hopkins has maintained numerous national contacts made as WPA administrator. His present position also has brought him a flood of mail. Like the letters streaming into Capitol Hill offices the majority of these communications from the folks back home express a fierce insistence that Uncle Sam mind his own business. Address: Harry Hopkins, The White House, Washington, D. C.

Police Protects Labor Unions, Refuses to Protect Merchants

To The Honorable, The City Council
San Diego, California.
Gentlemen:

With the transformation of San Diego from a village to a Metropolitan Ctiy we have attracted also the rackets which flourish in the great cities of our nation. It appears that the methods and instructions under which a village police operates are insufficient to cope with the problem of metropolitan rackets.

From my observation in this field it appears that the personnel of our police department are continually put on the spot, owing to the lack of instruction and training which is necessary to cope with intricate matters of law, which is getting daily more and more complicated.

I am enclosing a picture which illustrates the issue, The man in the picture is an AFL picket, asleep on the property of the merchant he is picketing. Just recently we had a case where the police were called by another merchant who was being molested by pickets. The police arrived but did nothing to alleviate the situation. Half an hour later a fight ensued and the picket was found stabbed in the back with an ice pick.

In the instance illustrated by this picture the merchant also called the police. The two patrolmen did not know what to do. One of them phoned in for instructions. I traced his call and the nature of the conversation. The patrolman was so confused he did not describe the situation correctly. He failed to inform the office that the bench in this picture was inside the store. The office imagined the bench was outside, on the side walk. The instructions were to tell the merchant to remove the bench and store it in the back of his shop where the customers could not use it to sit down while waiting with bundles in their arms for their companions to finish shopping. The picket was not disturbed in his siesta by the police.

If the police cannot protect merchants and the public against offensive pickets, must, then, the citizens not take the law into their own hands, in self-defense?

In front of the Montgomery Ward & Co. store, on B street, a woman picket and others were parking their car from 9 am till 5:30 pm, in an hour zone. The police did nothing to stop this practice for 6 weeks past. I timed the woman picket and made a civilian arrest in the presence of a police officer, for over-parking. I turned the picket into the custody of the officer and informed him that he could issue her a ticket, or else take her to the station and book her. The officer was in a quandary. He berated me for thus putting him on the spot and I don't blame him. He did not know what to do. He suggested to the woman to arrest me also. He refused to issue her a ticket. I could have signed it as the civilian bringing the charge, in place of the officer, and if the woman had signed it in the regular manner, he need not have taken her to the police station.

The police finally decided to ask for information. They left the scene to find out what to do. When he returned he took me and the woman picket to the station. She deposited $1 bail and was released immediately.

Take another case. Dan Taylor distributed communist leaflets in front of the AFL butchers union headquarters. The union officials complained. The police arrived and immediately made an arrest.

The remarkable part is that in front of Montgomery Ward, the aforementioned woman picket has acted by far more offensively in accosting customers and insulting them when they were walking into the store, than Dan Taylor acted when he handed out leaflets to the AFL butchers. But in the three aforementioned cases, where the merchant used an ice pick, where the picket slept on the bench and where this woman picket over-parked, the police never did a thing to give relief and protection to the citizens.

The AFL cannot stand to be molested by Dan Taylor, but all the rest of us must take every conceivable insult, tress-pass, and interference with our business & the police stands idly by, or phones in for instructions and then is as much confused as before.

I believe that with the increase of legalistic snarls in matters of the labor racket, it becomes imperative that a special police detail be instructed in that specialized field. They actually will have to be lawyers as well as police officers to know when to act, what to do and how far to go. I appreciate the injustice done to the average police officer when he is confronted with situations which has a lawyer stumped. Still, he must act, because his failure to act produces that justified resentment by which citizens feel themselves compelled to take individual action to protect themselves, their rights and their property.

I hope, you gentlemen, will give this matter your proper attention and take the necessary steps to correct the evil.

Sincerely, C. LEON de ARYAN.

ROOSEVELT'S FOREBEARS, COPPERHEADS ?

Editor, The Broom:

Enclosed I am sending you clipping from the Humboldt Times of May 1, written by David Lawrence on the Supreme Court's decision concerning the labor racket where the court forces employers to hire employees, who were never in the company's employ and pay them back wages on the grounds that they "discriminated" against them because they were "union" men, and were not hired on that acount when they applied for jobs. I think it is the most barefaced and dirty decision that was ever rendered by five jurors in the U. S. A. This proves to me that Roosevelt is a copperhead and all the people he appoints to office are of the same piece of cloth; they are traitors, perjurers and destroyers of our constitution and should be sent to England, there they can fight Roosevelt's war for him.

A copperhead in the Civil War was a northern Democrat who sided with the Secession and did all he could to help them. I was 8 years old; the south took Fort Sumpter in April, that was 80 years ago. I think FDR's father was a copperhead.

Dear Sir: The "Ancient Wisdom" is a collective name for the religious and philosophical works collected and stored in the Temples of Central Asia and the slopes of the Himalayan Mountains.

Translations of a very small part of those works are available to students of Orientalism and Religion.

The best part of it is contained in a modern rendition for American minds in the books written by the late Dr. Otoman Zaradusht Hanish. You can get a list of it by writing to the Mazdaznan Press, 1159 So. Norton Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. .

Another source for American students is the Theosophical literature which you may procure from Theosophical libraries as well as other large libraries.

Slave Labor for Conscientious Objectors

"Not you, Herr Hitler, but God is my Fuehrer!" These defiant words by Pastor Martin Niemoeller sent him to Dachau concentration camp.

"Not you Mister Roosevelt, but God is my Commander in Chief!"

For these steadfast declarations 2000 young men have been assigned to "work camps" at Patasco, Md; Largo, Ind., and Grottoes, Va.

7000 EXPECTED

Four additional camps have been completed, the selective service board said, and 14 more more are being prepared. The board expects the number of certified objectors to reach 7000 by midsummer, says a press dispatch from Washington.

The men assigned to the camps are subject to the same period of service as those who go into the army. They differ from the army men, however, in two respects—they will wear work clothes instead of uniforms, and they will draw no pay.

Slave Camps "Everywhere in the World"

And in this fashion President Roosevelt is proving that his brand of "freedom to worship God according to one's conscience EVERYWHERE in the world", means that the United States is instituting involuntary servitude WITHOUT PAY for those who, like Pastor Niemoeller, have chosen God for their Chief in place of Roosevelt, the slave drafter.

To be a Christian and of draft age means confinement in work camps at hard work for one year, in violation of the First and Thirteenth Amendments to that Constitution which this presidential slave driver and hypocrite has three times sworn to protect.

In these United States of America, in the year of the Lord 1941, it is a crime and a disgrace to have chosen the Lord Jesus Christ, bear this in mind!

Five Vicious Germans

By Herbert S. Mace

Slowly from bush to bush, from shelter to shelter, the soldiers made their way towards the cabin. Nothing must be left undone. No one must be allowed to escape from that cabin. Its contents must be captured. When everything was in readiness, ten strong men carrying a heavy pole made into a battering-ram,approached the door. Silently they walked, for the Germans must be taken completely by surprise.

At last! it seemed ages to the other men and soldiers hiding in the darkness of the canyon—they reached the door. The signal was given. With a mighty plunge the men rushed the door and battered it down with their battering-ram. Screams were heard by the men outside. The hidden search-lights were brought into play and the cabin was bathed in a flood of light. Shouts were heard. A few shots were fired. Then the ten men appointed to make this dangerous plunge came from the cabin carrying three screaming figures hidden in blankets. A flame shot up from the cabin floor and a moment later the entire cabin was a mass of flames. The screaming figures were rushed to the home of Mr. Robert Smith. A guard was thrown about the house and later these victims were hurried away under heavy guard.

That night, under the protection of the police, Miss Mary Garden and her two wards and Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their three sons moved from town to parts unknown.

The morning papers told the full story of "The Five Vicious Germans" as far as the Secret Service men thought it was wise to reveal the story to the public. In times like these, days of war, of hatreds bitter and intense, of plots and counter-plots many things must be kept secret. The very life and safety of the Nation demanded it. In part, this is the story as told by the papers:—

"Centerville's Noble Police Department in Cooperation with Army Men, the Secret Service Department and Many Local Volunteers thwarted a Most Amazing Plot to Blow Up the Powder Mills.

"To Miss Mary Garden credit must be given for giving to the police the first clew by which these vicious spies have been captured".

Here many of the details related, with many others were printed. Then the news of how Miss Mary Garden, her two wards; Mr. & Mrs. Smith and their three sons were sent away to parts unknown; by the police for their protection from the vengeance of other Germans, who might be connected with the plot. Under another great sub-head the story of the daring attack and capture of the spies was told; and in this it was related how the men upon being surprised had seized and thrown a lamp on the floor, setting the cabin on fire and thus destroying what appeared to be many files of valuable papers, probably German secrets which would have been of great value to the Nation if they could have been saved from the flames.

Miss Mary Garden, her two wards; the Smiths; Miss Mary Garden's former gardener, and Mr. Hans Goetz were never again seen in Centerville, and only the closest friends of Miss Garden's and the Smith's ever heard from them.

The police were praised in the papers for their wonderful work; their courage and loyalty. The names of "The Five Vicious Germans", what became of them; what was discovered inside the cabin; the solving of the amazing code or radio and light signals; all these things were guarded as most precious secrets. As the days went on and many other plots and betrayals were discovered throuout the world, the case of "The Five Vicious Germans" was more or less forgotten—but to this day there are many in Centerville who remember those anxious weeks of waiting and unrest, and who still wonder what the all important secrets learned by the police on breaking into the cabin were. Many of them wonder what became of the Germans. Three were captured—but the other two were never mentioned, except that the police hoped to soon have them under arrest.

And now, I am going to let you in on the inside story, and when you read it, you will realize why it was of utmost importance that the secrets learned in the solving of this amazing plot be kept from the general public. Morale, that vital factor in winning of a war must be kept up. Public officials must be trusted. Anything that would break the morale, anything that would cause the people to feel that conditions were hopeless or that would cause them to pass things by lightly, must be kept hidden from them. If traitors were found in the highest ranks of the army or navy, or in important public positions, the masses must never know it; for whithout faith in their leaders the Nation would be lost. Morale must be kept up; the masses must be kept in a fighting spirit; nothing that would break the fighting morale of the Nation could be made public. Those who knew the inside truths must carry them alone; must guard these vital secrets with their lives; the war must go on; the Germans must be defeated: But now that the war is over, that the Nation is no longer in danger—the carefully guarded secrets may be safely told.

When the door of the cabin, known as the holdout of "The Five Vicious Germans", was crashed in, two groups were greatly surprised, the occupants of the cabin and the invading officers of the law.

DON'T TREAD ON ME

By H. D. Kissenger, Atty at Law

KANSAS CITY, Mo.,—Under the caption AIR CHAIN CLAMP, the press of April 4 informs us that Federal regulations restrict the operations of major radio networks. Does this presage an era of gags, blinders and muzzles? Apprehension stirs for W. R. HEARST says cautiously:

"Soon I will stop writing because we will soon be in war and all you can say in war is that everything is all right whether it is or not—else you are not a good American and I want to LIVE and DIE a good American".

Nevertheless, Mr. Hearst, many of us would prefer to die American for should we condone abridgment of freedom of speech we certainly would be too ignoble to live American even tho Woodrow Wilson said " We have done with the Washington traditions forever". It may happen that an administration may not even "speak American"; it is well to recall these words of LINCOLN: "There is an important sense in which the government is distinct from the administration. One is perpetual, the other temporary and changeable. A man may be loyal to his government AND YET OPPOSE the peculiar principles and methods of the administration".

In this connection it is important to remember that allegiance in the U. S. is due from the citizen to the Constitution and Laws of the U. S. NOT to the Chief Executive, nor to the Congress or any other official. The American oath of Allegiance is not to any person or individual, or office or officer; hence is strikingly different from allegiance given in England to the King.

War or no war, it is our duty to oppose the attempt to remake America and regiment our white women thru the process of substituting for our representative democracy of Jefferson, the social democracy of Karl Marx. ALEXANDER HAMILTON knew that to live American one must have the right to freely speak American for he said: "The liberty of the press consists in publishing the truth FROM GOOD MOTIVES and FOR JUSTIFIABLE ENDS, tho it reflects on the government, on magistrates or individuals".

Col. Lindbergh, our foremost American, certainly speaks from such motives and for such ends when he speaks to save our beloved country from being driven into bankruptcy and chaos by war-mongers who demand for themselves gory profits of war and, for England, the right to starve by blockade all nations on this planet who strive to overthrow the usurious British Israel monetary strangle hold on world commerce. JEFFERSON said: "England may indeed feel the desire of starving an enemy nation but she can have no right of doing it at OUR loss nor of making us the instruments of it". Let us hope that Lindbergh is not given the white powder for saying as much but he faces a mongrelized generation that is being goaded to chew one another's necks as agents of the Secret Power rifle their pockets and pocket their homes; so the Colonel had better watch his drinking cup; for not many to-day are broad-minded enough to say with VOLTAIRE: "I disagree with every word you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it".

We are living cravenly, not dangerously today with "eggs" on our left and "yeggs" on our right who would not hesitate to cold conk any one for saying there is ample room in your eye for all the democracy to be found in England; but, war or no war, I shall continue to cry out against the scumunists in the spirit of PATRICK HENRY: "Should I keep back my opinions AT SUCH A TIME thru fear of giving offense, I should consider myself as guilty of TREASON towards my country and of an act of disloyalty towards the majesty of Heaven". Those who dare oppose this brand of treason, merit IMPEACHMENT at the hands of those who are still jealous of their sovereign rights.

To tamper with freedom of speech, of the press and of the air, is one sure way to promote disunity and insecurity. These rights are too sacred to be impaired thru the media of trumped-up emergencies, dangers and crises.

Copperhead Democrats

Editor, The Broom: When the president referred to Col Lindbergh as a Copperhead he evidentally overlooked the fact that every Copperhead was a northern Democrat; also that the Democratic platform of 1864 denounced the Civil war as a failure and demanded a cessation of hostilities.

All of which goes to show that when Mr. Roosevelt attempts to smear others, he succeeds only in smearing himself.

Throwing Rocks at Automobiles, A Felony

SACRAMENTO,— To protect motorists from injury by articles thrown at automobiles, a bill is being guided through the Legislature by Assemblyman Harold F. Sawallisch of Richmond, Lee T. Bashore of Glendora, Melvyn I. Cronin of San Francisco and Charles W. Stream of Chula Vista.

By the measure, a person who throws any substance at a vehicle or its occupants shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, but any person who maliciously or willfully throws a rock, brick, bottle, metal or other missile or who discharges a firearm at a vehicle shall be guilty of a felony.

For the latter offense the bill provides imprisonment of not less than one year and not more than five.

During presentation of the bill before the Assembly, which adopted it, a number of instances in which persons have been seriously injured were reported by the assemblymen.

Medical Students Exempted

WASHINGTON,— To avert a possible national shortage of doctors, the selective service system ordered deferment of military training for medical students who "give reasonable promise of becoming acceptable medical doctors".

A memorandum from Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service deputy director, instructed state and local boards to continue such deferments as long as the students progressed satisfactorily.

Local boards were urged to make sure that requirements of the armed forces for physicians and surgeons were filled, without summoning to military duty practicing doctors whose services were necessary to the community.

Hershey cited a recent survey by the Office of Production Management estimating a present need of 9000 medical officers for the army, navy, public health service and veterans adminstration. To fill that need would remove about 5 percent of the doctors now engaged in civilian practice.

"There are no replacements for medical students who are withdrawn from school," Hershey's memorandum said.

OH— PERCY !

The Mayor had consented, with a number of his colleagues, to attend a large temperance gathering.

They were rather late and the chairman of the meeting, with the object of marking time, announced that they would sing the hymn, "Hold the fort, for I am coming."

Before the hymn had concluded the civic procession, headed by the Mayor, entered the hall just as the audience were singing the lines: "See the mighty host advancing, Satan leading on!"

An enterprising Yankee had discovered up-country a desirable district in which to form a settlement, and went to New York to secure immigrants, as well as the services of a newspaper reporter, who was to join the party on arrival. The reporter found a man upwards of eighty years of age, one of the proposed settlers.

"What made you bring that old man—he can be of no use?"

"Oh, I can utilize him."

"In what way?"

"He'll do to commence our cemetary."

HEALTH-GERMS

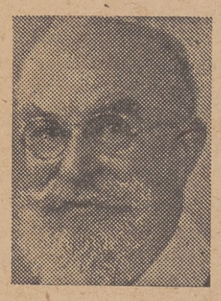
Has Earth-Worm Farm

Dear Frend deAryan:

I hear very many complimentary reports re your wonderful frank and candid exposing weekly. They come from far and near.



Dr. Geo. Starr White

Youthfully yours,
GEO. STARR WHITE.

MASTOID TROUBLES

The mastoid bone is situated just back of the ear—one on each side of the head. This bone is partially hollow inside, and communicates with the inner ear. It helps in sound interpretation.

When there is severe catar in the throat and middle ear, this inflammatory condition often extends into the mastoid "cells". This condition is popularly known as "Mastoid".

It is a serious condition, but can almost always be cured without the terrible mastoid operation. After a person "recovers" from a mastoid operation (if he happens to be that fortunate or unfortunate), he is a patient for an ear-doctor the remainder of his life.

The correct acid-fruit diet and powerful balanced light over the side of the head affected, will cure this condition, if taken in time. Hot applications help wonderfully. One must expect to "give up work" and make a business of getting over this trouble. It cannot be done half-way.

Tobacco, as well as alcohol, are very often causes of mastoid. I have known men to drink a few "nips" of gin, go to bed, and wake up with a severe pain in the side of the head. Surgeons will nearly always advise an operation. I have known many who never even came out of the anesthetic. The operation is a terrible one, and usually injures the brain.

I have had much experience with all manner of ear troubles and mastoid troubles, and have never had to have a patient operated and never expect to, for these conditions.

Vaccination often causes mastoid troubles. Serums and antitoxins will do the same.

But They Want No Cancer Cure !

Dear de Aryan:

I have just read your article "syphillis Racket Exposed Again", in the Broom of the 21st inst. It is always refreshing to find someone who has the courage to expose Rackets and particularly the Medical Racket.

Perhaps someday the American people will get next to themselves and to the Racketeers, and clean them out.

I have had much personal experience with the Medical Racket, having once put in four years as an "Inspector" in the "health" department of a large city. A few of my experiences were such that they are worth repeating. It beats the Dickens how a flock of gullible women—millions of them throughout the country—let the Racketeers use them as stooges in matters they know nothing about. For instance, the "Women's Field Army" for cancer control. In that connection, I had an experience which should awaken some of these ladies to the fact that they are permitting the foremost group of Racketeers in the nation, to make monkeys of them.

Some years ago, while I was on the editorial staff of a Salt Lake city afternoon newspaper, I had occasion to write a feature story, which was published with a "By" line--By G. J. Knapp.

Shortly thereafter I had a letter from a gentleman living at Cedar City, Utah, who wrote me after seeing my name on the feature story, and who said he would like to come to see me at Salt Lake on a matter of some importance. I wrote him to come ahead and I would be glad to see him. A week later he visited Salt Lake and got in touch with me. I called on him at his hotel. For convenience, we might call this gentleman Mr. George See. Here was Mr. See's story:-

"Mr. Knapp, my grandfather was the first Doctor who located in Utah when the pioneers came out here. His son, my father, was also a Doctor. My grandfather discovered a cure for cancer. When my grandfather died he passed the formula along to his son,—my father. My grandfather and my father, during their lifetimes, cured all the cancer there was in southern Utah. When my father died, he passed the formula along to me. The cure is effective and it is CHEAP. Altho I am not a licensed physician, I have from time to time supplied this cure to folks in and around Cedar City who were given up by the Doctors because they said they were suffering from an "incurable" cancer. This formula can be prepared at any drug store for Two dollars, and Two dollars worth of it will cure any average case of cancer which has not advanced so far that the sufferer is more dead than alive when he starts taking it. It can be taken internally for internal cancers and can cure skin cancers by external application. It is non-poisonous.

"There is much talk about cancer research and congress appropriates millions of dollars at every session for such research. I would like to give my formula to the federal government free, with no strings on it except that this treatment shall forever be supplied to all cancer sufferers at Cost. I would like to give this formula to the government, because I don't want it commercialized. If the drug houses were to get hold of it, the thing would soon be commercialized and, while it costs but a dollar or two, they would soon have the price up to where a por man could not get it. And the reason I wish to give it to the government is, so that even the poorest person will be able to afford this treatment. In fact, I think the government should take it, sell it at cost to those who can pay, and give it free to those people who are so poor that they can't even buy it at $2. Do you think you could help me to get the government to do this?"

My first impression was that Mr. See was a 'nut' or a 'crank' who thought he had something. Still, since the gentleman had something that he wished to GIVE to the government gratis, it was apparent that he could not possibly be a self-seeking grafter. Grafters don't give things away. So I asked Mr. See what proof he had that his formula would do what he claimed for it. He said:-

"Mr. Knapp, come with me to Cedar City and I will take you around to a dozen or two dozen people within a hundred mile radius of our town, who, after being "given up" by the medics, as hopeless cancer cases, were cured for $2 by this formula."

Still dubious, I promised Mr. See to come down to Cedar City at the earliest possible date and interview his "cure". To make a long story short, I managed to find time for a trip to Cedar City within a few weeks and, true to his promise, Mr. See produced his "living proof". He took me around to any number of persons who had been solemnly "condemned to death" by various medics in that territory, as being cancer cases that were beyond medical aid. Two dollars worth of Mr. See's formula had cured them. I returned to Salt Lake City convinced that this man, Mr. See, really had something, and I decided to get busy and see if the government would be interested in really finding a cure for cancer.

For years, at every session of congress, Sen. Neeley of West Virginia (if I remember correctly) has been getting congress to appropriate a million or two for "cancer research". Sen. Neeley is, himself, a medic. So I wrote the Senator a letter and told him about this cancer cure which, at a cost of a lousy $2, would apparently really cure cancer. I told him I had investigated and was satisfied personally, that the cure was effective. However, I told him that he needn't take my word for it, that all we were asking was, that the government investigate it; try it out with a series of tests on actual cases and see whether this formula would do what was claimed for it. I told the Senatorial medic that Mr. See asked nothing for himself, but merely wanted the government to take the formula FREE and supply it at cost to all, rich and poor alike, who needed it.

Weeks passed, but the esteemable senator did not reply to my communication. Thinking that possibly my letter might have gone astray, I wrote the senator a second letter. That also went unanswered. Next I wrote the so called "United States Public Health" service. I put it up to them just as I had previously put it up to the senator. No answer. I wrote them again. Again no answer. I wrote several other senators, calling attention to the fact that congress was appropriating millions for cancer research but nobody seemed really interested in finding a cure. I told them of the letters I had written Sen. Neeley and the public "health" service and how not one of them answered.

I expressed my surprise at the fact that while the government was spending millions, supposedly to find a cure for cancer, nobody connected with the government seemed to be interested in investigating a cure which could show living results; a cure which could show men and women not only living, but working and enjoying good health, after the medics had "given them up".

The only senator who replied to my letters was the late Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho,—a man with a high sense of duty to the public. His reply cleared up the matter of the utter indifference manifested by all to whom I had written. Briefly, Sen. Borah's reply was, substantially, this:-

"Mr. Knapp, you are wasting your postage stamps. These People are not interested in finding a cure for cancer. They are interested in getting millions of dollars appropriated at every session of congress, on the pretense of looking for a cure. They don't want a cancer cure, because if a cure were found there would be no further need or excuse for appropriating millions of dollars for "cancer research". You couldn't run fast enough to give them a cure for cancer. In short, they are not interested in a cure. They are only interested in a periodic appropriation."

That in substance was Sen. Borah's reply and I feel certain that it hit the nail on the head. The ladies of the "Women's Field Army" might profitably think that over.

Sincerely, G. J. KNAPP.

Breathe with the knowledge that Breath is the Life Principle, and that the Object of Breathing is to reach perfect Consciousness.

Mental and divine giants have no aspirations other than those that would inspire their fellowmen to well-doing.

The majority of men may have cultured brains, but they still show savage hearts.

Man is the crown of creation, and, as such, has power to control everything for his own good. The plastic side is his, and he may turn earth into heaven.

There is ample proof to show that Egypt copied from the religions which have existed in the earlier age of Zoroaster. Ethnologists have found in the language of Egypt so many Sanskrit words and Zend words, even words of the later Pahzend, that we have to look to Tibet, India, Iran or Persia, for the cradle of the Egyptian language.

As time goes on and we listen to the still small voice, we realize that all the hustle in the world is mere vanity.

Few men differ from the savage in character; most of them are even lower than beasts, for such is the claim of Holy Writ.

This program has been on the air for almost two years and a half now. I am very thankful to the people who forced me to go in the air and tell my story or fold up and go out of business, as a result of the boycott which certain people in that section of San Diego, on Fifth avenue, south of Broadway had instituted against THE BROOM. Verily Jesus Christ was right in teaching us to love our enemies, because our enemies drive us to greater efforts in upholding the truth and bringing it out. In fact what would we do without enemies? We would get lazy and fall into a rut; we would never progress and we would never know what we really can accomplish when we have to.

Bed Bugs for the Lazy

Since this world is so perfectly governed by Divine Love and Intelligence, naturally our enemies have a job to do for us in the scheme of things and we must appreciate the devotion and the unswering loyalty with which they do that job and drive us on. I have been wondering many a time why the good Lord permitted mosquitoes & other insects to spoil our joy of life when we go out into the woods, or when the wind blows them our way of an evening. But the good Lord certainly knows our weaknesses and to force us to take sanitary measures He had to let mosquitoes sting us into action. Whenever you find a home infested with cockroaches, bed bugs and the like, you form a certain opinion about the people living in that house, don't you?

And so I had to take to the air to tell you my story, of why I was being boycotted and your response was marvelous; I am still in business, you are continuing to send in your requests for another subscription to THE BROOM and your voluntary contributions to defray the expense of these programs, and here I am not only editing THE BROOM as fearlessly and truthfully as ever but I have learned the art of radio technique and its advantages besides.

May the good Lord bless my enemies for they did not realize how they forced me to place my faith in the Lord and in the power of the Truth itself, to the point where it brings results, helps me grow mightier in the counsels of those who think and teaches me that God keeps His promises even if those who take oaths of office break theirs.

Union-Trib. Radio Log

But there is another very interesting and very humorous byplay going on in connection with my radio program. I have reference to the Radio Log of the San Diego Union-Tribune. At the time that I started this program we had three daily papers in San Diego. The Copley Union, a morning paper, The EVENING TRIBUNE, also owned by Copley, and the San Diego SUN, a Scripps-Howard afternoon paper.

At first, when I went on the air, I had no idea of starting a regular program, but God moves in mysterious ways His wonders to perform. I merely borrowed $25 for one radio talk, gambling on the idea that if the people of San Diego found out who it was that wanted to put THE BROOM out of business and for what reason they were calling personally on my advertisers to threaten them with boycott, an immediate response would result which would enable me to continue publishing THE BROOM even without adequate revenues from commercial advertising. So my first speech was announced in the radio log of all three papers under the caption "political".

To my surprise, the response was so good, that I decided to put on a second talk the following week on the same subject and the result went far beyond my expectations, so that it enabled me to make this a regular program. It is the people of small means as well as everyone who wants to find out what is actually going on in the world, as well as in San Diego, that sends in the subscriptions for the paper and for the radio fund. In that way I am under obligations to nobody and here and there some public spirited citizen sends in a larger check, which of course, helps me devote more time to study so that my next radio talk becomes better than the last one.

As soon as I had made arrangements with the management of KGB for a regular program we had to figure out a name for it. It was decided to call it "de Aryan Comments". The San Diego SUN accepted that title and carried it in its radio log regularly. But the San Diego UNION and the TRIBUNE refused to carry it, they continued to label the program, "political".

I went to find out why they did not give their readers the correct information since my program in many instances had nothing to do with politics, when it commented on religious, scientific, health and philosophical subjects. The managers of the Copley papers told me that it was a rule with them not to name the sponsors of a program unless they paid for it at the rate of $1 per week for insertion in each paper. Since I was the sponsor of my own program they would not insert "de Aryan" in front of the word "comments"! So I suggested a compromise and they labeled it "Timely Comments".

That went on for a while till the Ham & Eggs campaign. The Copley papers were against Ham & Eggs and because I was, as usual, the only publisher in San Diego honest and fearless enough to come out against it, and was exposing the Ham & Eggs racket persistently, the Copley papers labeled my program "Ham & Eggs". After election they returned again to calling it "Timely Comments". That went on till the presidential campaign last year.

In the meantime the San Diego SUN had folded up and was taken over by the TRIBUNE, so the people of San Diego could not find the correct information about de Aryan and his comments in the radio log anymore. But the good Lord evidently moves in mysterious ways to take care of His own and bring out the truth so it won't be smothered under the bushel of censorship. For lo and behold, the UNION and the TRIBUNE, both of them suddenly sprouted out with "de Aryan Comments" in the radio log. I could not believe my eyes. What had become of the touted rules and regulations of the Copley papers who would not name the sponsor in the radio Log? I was not paying for any insertion of that name. What had happened?

Courage and truthfulness carries its own reward. While the owners and the editors of the Union-Tribune publishing company were in favor of wee Wendell Willkie for president, the men on the staff were preponderantly against him. During the presidential campaign, as usual, I continued to tell the truth about both candidates for president and exposed the fact that both were tarred with the same brush and were under obligation to the same crowd which was known as the Allen White Committee for Helping the Allies.

The staff members of the Union-Trib. were tickled that the fellow de Aryan had courage enough to come out and expose the conspiracy to get us into the war. They decided that all the people of San Diego ought to know when de Aryan Comments over KGB and they simply inserted "de Aryan Comments" in the radio log and then kept on doing it, long after the election, as long as the matter of going to war was in the balance.

But going to war is not everything. We have local problems also. The firemen wanted to hike their own pay beyond all reason and wanted to make themselves bosses of the city council and the civil service commission. They proposed an amendment to the city charter to that effect. If they succeeded, the police would have followed suit to organize themselves into a closed shop union under the AFL and vote themselves independence from the city council. Why, it was the nicest thin wedge to bring this whole city under the heel of the labor racketeers as they had done it in Seattle under Dave Beck.

But that fellow de Aryan was no more scared of the firemen than he was scared of the international Bankers and Wee Wendell Willkie. In my comments I exposed the whole fraudulent conspiracy of the firemen and lo and behold, the name de Aryan suddenly disappeared from the radio log of the Union-Trib. Back to Timely Comments it went. That kept on till election. When the firemen got licked, the cry of agony hit straight into the radio log, for the following week my program fell from grace and was reduced to the mere caption of "political". But today they promoted me already one step higher, The Log says: Comments.—Still, my public is waiting for the program and they find it, Radio Log or no Radio Log.

CIO Reporting in Union — Trib

But the CIO is not only juggling the Radio Log, it takes equal liberties with reporting and headlining. During the whole campaign against the Firemen's racket, my activities in the courts and before the city council were presented in the light of an enemy of good wages and decent hours. It was expertly done.

When something happens reporters can always pick what they want to report and how they want to report it, and the headline writer can pick what he wants to feature and give implications in the heading which at times is nonexistant in the text even. These are tricks of the trade.

To give an example. After the election I wrote a letter to the city council concerning the mandate of the people on firemen's hours and wages. I also appeared in person before the council. In the report appearing in the UNION the most significant thing was simply left out and the impression was given that I urged the council to annul its own previous action of giving the firemen the six-day week. But here is what I said:

Firemen Entitled to 6-Day Week

"Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen of the Council—You remember that you passed a resolution to give the firemen a six-day week when I appeared before you with the plea that if the firemen were entitled to it, they were entitled to it and you were bound to give it to them in place of placing it on the ballot. You passed that resolution because you figured they were entitled to it. Now we had an election. The fact that the people voted against the amendment is not proof that the firemen are not entitled to it. To find out what the people mandated, the firemen would have to bring in the 18,000 voters and make them tell you. But if the firemen are entitled to a six-day week they are just as much entitled today as they were entitled before the election. If you deny them their rights to which they are entitled don't be surprised if they join hands with the communists and all the subversive racketeers in an effort to get their rights. The people voted to let you decide what the firemen should have. Now you decide according to right and not according to notions about this or that mandate. The people will trust you and continue to back you at election time if you treat the firemen and everybody else justly, according to what is right and what they ar eentitled to. I see no reason why the Chief of the Fire Department could not discuss this matter with the City Manager according to the provisions of Section 58 of the city charter and hire additional firemen to give the men a day off each week and still maintain the double platoon system."—That's what I said. Why did the daily papers not report it?

Five Years in Jail for Obeying Ten Commandments

VICTORIA, Texas,—Seven conscientious objectors convinced that Federal Judge James V. Allred couldn't alter the Ten Commandments, decided to change their minds to suit him—and comply with the draft act.

They had pleaded guilty earlier in the day to selective service act violations, saying their action was based on religious grounds.

Allred sentenced each to five years in prison, saying he would change the judgment if they complied with the law before he left Victoria.

Forsake God, Obey Satan

At first they refused, but after conferences with their families advised the court they had changed their minds. Judge Allred immediately reopened court, congratulated them and requested the draft board chairman to accept registrations from six and the questionnaire of the seventh.

Judge Allred instructed the marshal to keep the defendants in jail and bring them to court the next morning. He indicated he might reduce, set aside or suspend their sentences.

Before passing sentence, Judge Allred had explained to the defendants they could comply with the law, then claim exemptions from military service.

U. S. Judge Says Religion Is Impudence

Defiant at first, Ed Berger, 26, speaking for the defendants, said they would take this course if the court would change the Ten Commandments.

Judge Allred called the remark impudent, and declared, "While I, of course, can't change the Ten Comandments, I'll give each of you five years and a chance to change your minds."

The court commented that the defendants would have their heads chopped off or be sent to a concentration camp in some other countries.
